High School

presents

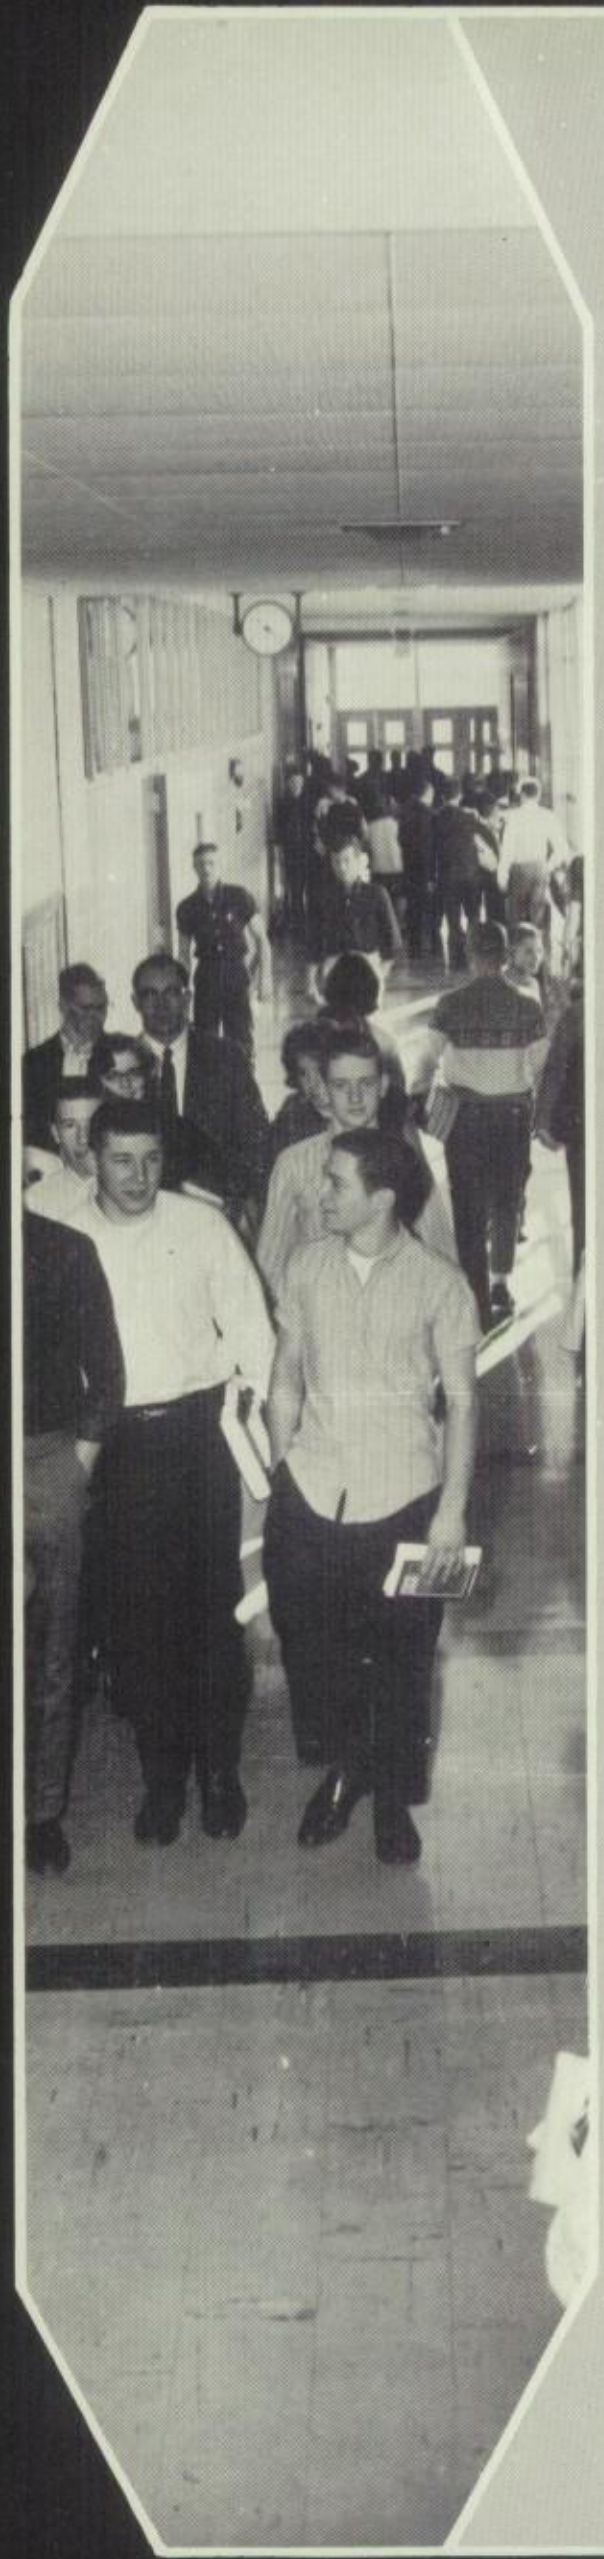
of 1964

Highland Park

Lewistown,

Pennsylvania



When we, the class of nineteen hundred sixty four, entered that September as seventh grade students, we had no idea of what lay ahead of us in these halls.

This year we become the first graduating class to have obtained our entire Junior and Senior high school education in the new building. We have chosen "Through the Halls" as our yearbook theme for good reason. We take pride in Chief Logan High School, filled with wonderful memories, and wish to retrace our steps.

We know the beckoning of the hall when the end of class draws near. We know its joys, its sorrows; we know its shelter and warmth. The hall is a part of us; it is our corridor to learning, success, and love. It is the ribbon that ties our school together in friendship. The hall has seen our petty quarrels, our fun, and the patter of feet. It has heard the slamming of the locker and the jabber of voices.

AS A TRIBUTE TO OUR ROAD OF LEARNING, THE ONE WHICH WE HAVE KNOWN FOR SIX SHORT BUT EXCITING YEARS, WE PRESENT THE 1964 EDITION OF THE LEGEND AND THE PHOTOGRAPHIC STORY IT HOLDS.

IN MEMORIAM

John
Fitzgerald
Kennedy
1917-1963

A black veil of sorrow silenced our halls as the death of our President was announced.

As we pass "through the halls" for the last time, we must stop to consider those who have guided us on our road of learning. Those are the ones who have taught us, supported us, and prepared us for our commencement of a new life.

WE PRESENT THE SCHOOL PERSONNEL, TO WHOM WE OWE SINCERE THANKS AND INTENSE PRAISE.

ADMINISTRATION

To You:

Through the halls of time mortals move who achieve immortality during their lifetime. Their fame continues for centuries, if the accomplishment is unusually worthy.

You ask how they achieve lasting fame . . . It comes to the ones who diligently pursue supreme goals which are elusive much of the time.

If you are courageous enough to establish an elusive goal, you must also be perseverant enough to reach your goal. The fleetness with which time passes is one enemy to the accomplishment of goals. Does this suggest to you that "it's later than you think"?

Student Body:

The halls of Chief Logan are the pulse of our student body. They vibrate with emotional currents, throb with excitement, and beat with youthful gaiety.

In the corridors friends exchange brief confidences, and display school spirit. Scholars speak of successes and difficulties with assignments. It is here that many loyalties and friendships have their inception.

The perceptive observer immediately senses the student-faculty-administration relationships, the student population's respect for authority and the degree of self-discipline to which our students have risen.

In the magic moments before the first bell, attitudes of schoolmates are conveyed and the mood for day established.

As our boys and girls journey through the halls of Chief Logan from seventh to twelfth grade a growing maturity and self-control are evident. Physical growth has been accompanied by intellectual, emotional, social and spiritual advancement.

May the friendships formed here, the good citizenship qualities achieved here, and the many-faceted abilities acquired here continue to prosper long after commencement and that true, enduring values will guide your journey on life's artery.

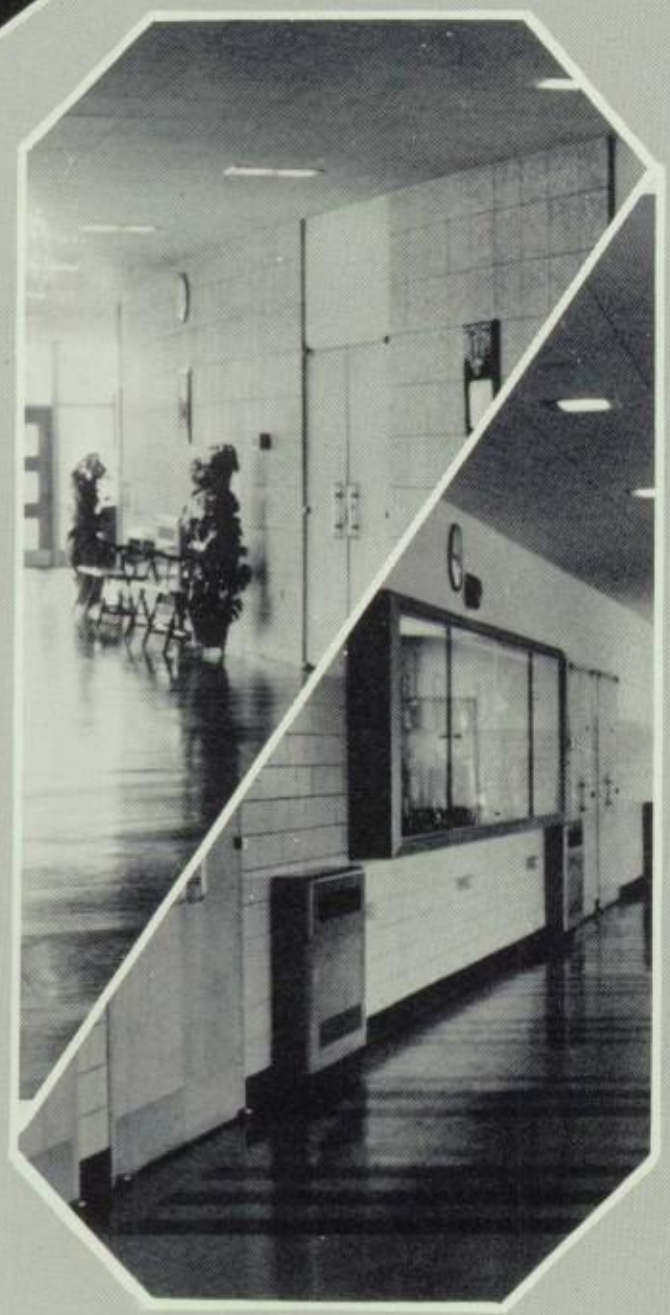
Special Education

Special Education classes exist in our school because individuals differ in abilities, capacities, interests, needs, and desires. In order for a student to develop worthy citizenship, he must be given every opportunity to develop to his own capacity and contribute to his community.

To this end, activities of all types--manual, physical, mental, creative, and social--are offered to our Special Education students. As members of the school, we offer our services in the cafeteria, help teachers operate projectors, assemble peg board displays and second floor display case, and fulfill other general jobs we are asked to do.

This year we have started a modified occupational training program in which selected senior high students attend classes for one half a day and then receive on-the-job training for the other half. Students have worked as garage helpers, custodial assistants, and stock room clerks.

The Special Education program is an integral part of our school system and, as such, is producing good workers and useful citizens.



A basketball bouncing against the hard wood . . . voices eminating from the choral room . . . typewriters clicking for the Chieftain . . . are a few of the sounds heard in the halls of Chief Logan.

Blending in the halls, these sounds portray the perfect unity of the students at our school.

BY WORKING TOGETHER AND PLAYING HARD, MORE IS ACCOMPLISHED AND HIGHER GOALS ARE ATTAINED.

The halls were quiet those nights the class of '64 practiced for their junior and senior productions. The sounds of daily school activity were not to be heard, only those of well-learned lines and of the voices of the directors, Mr. Notestine and Mr. Selner.

WE WERE YOUNG THAT YEAR, the junior class production, was something completely different from any thing given before. The plot was based on the summer experiences of a young girl at a resort, and the audience was asked to sit back and remember "that year when they were young."

THE GANG

The senior play, REBEL WITHOUT A CAUSE, was also quite different from the ordinary production. The story was about a teen-age boy who had many problems in adjusting himself to adulthood. Both plays proved to be quite successful, thanks to Mr. Notestine and Mr. Selner, the casts, and the patrons.

BASKETBALL

Hard work and practice have enabled our basketball teams to produce impressive season records. The girls' team, under the guidance of Miss Fry and Miss Swineford, has had the best year since its beginning. Our boys, coached by Mr. Volansky and Mr. Parson, have brought us high honors through their wins in the Tri-Valley League. Both are to be commended for their diligence, competitive desire, and sportsmanship.

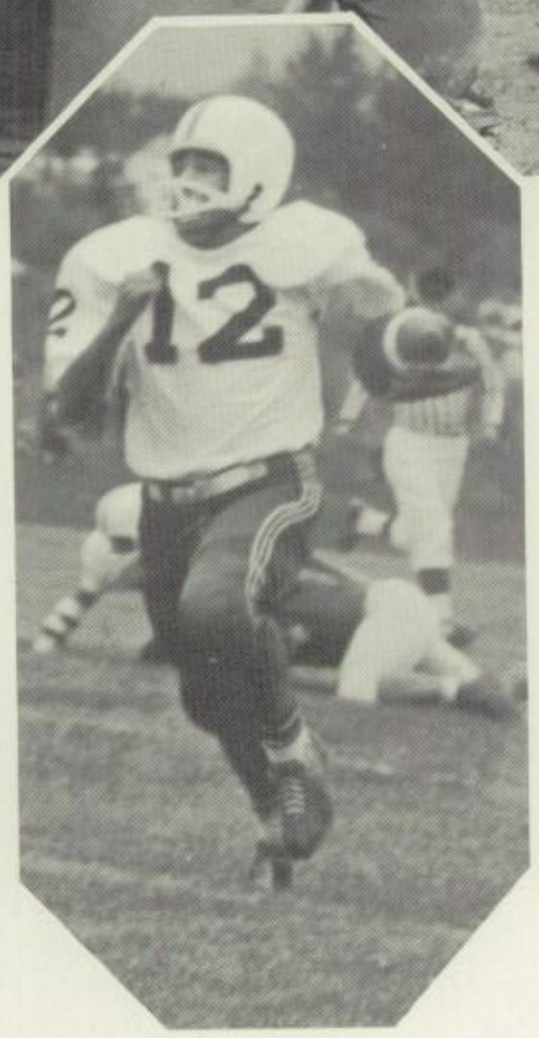
FOOTBALL



Chief Logan put us on the warpath . . . and we won. This was the story of the 1963 football season, which ended with our school high in the standings of the Western Conference. Many of the boys have won outside honors in the Big 33 and All Central Counties team. We commend the squad and the coaches--Mr. Prisuta, Mr. Matthews, and Mr. Shirk--for a job well done in moving the pigskin across the goal line. We hope that future seasons will be just as successful and profitable as that of our senior year.

CLASS HISTORY

Perhaps, because we are the first class to have completed six full and exciting years in the new building, the class of 1964 has had a special magic. Everything we attempted was accomplished successfully.

Our years in junior high school were ones of growth under the guidance of the faculty and administration. When we entered senior high school as sophomores, we were anxious to start contributing to the school. It was at this time that we began participating in the many school activities that have long since become part of our lives.

In Washington's historical atmosphere on our junior class trip, we learned many lessons. However, the greatest thing we learned was a lesson in living together. Many individuals departed on that trip, but a class returned.

After that, it was time to order our treasured class rings. Next, we bought our hats and pennants in our class colors of beige and brown.

In March of 1963, our class presented its first production, the play "We Were Young That Year". It was a very unique play, and the success it enjoyed was overwhelming. To complete that fabulous junior year, our class sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom, "An Evening In May". Many wonderful memories remain from that special night.

A very excited class began its senior year in September, 1963. We were all eager to work for the honor of our school and class. Fortune smiled on us in areas of athletics, scholarship, and extra-curricular activities, and made it possible for us to achieve our ambitions.

In our senior class play, "Rebel Without A Cause", we tried to better the record of our junior class play. Much to our delight, this production surpassed our highest expectations.

As our days at Chief Logan draw to a close, we are both, proud and humble, sad and happy. We know that many wonderful classes will follow and retrace our footsteps in the halls of C.L.H.S.

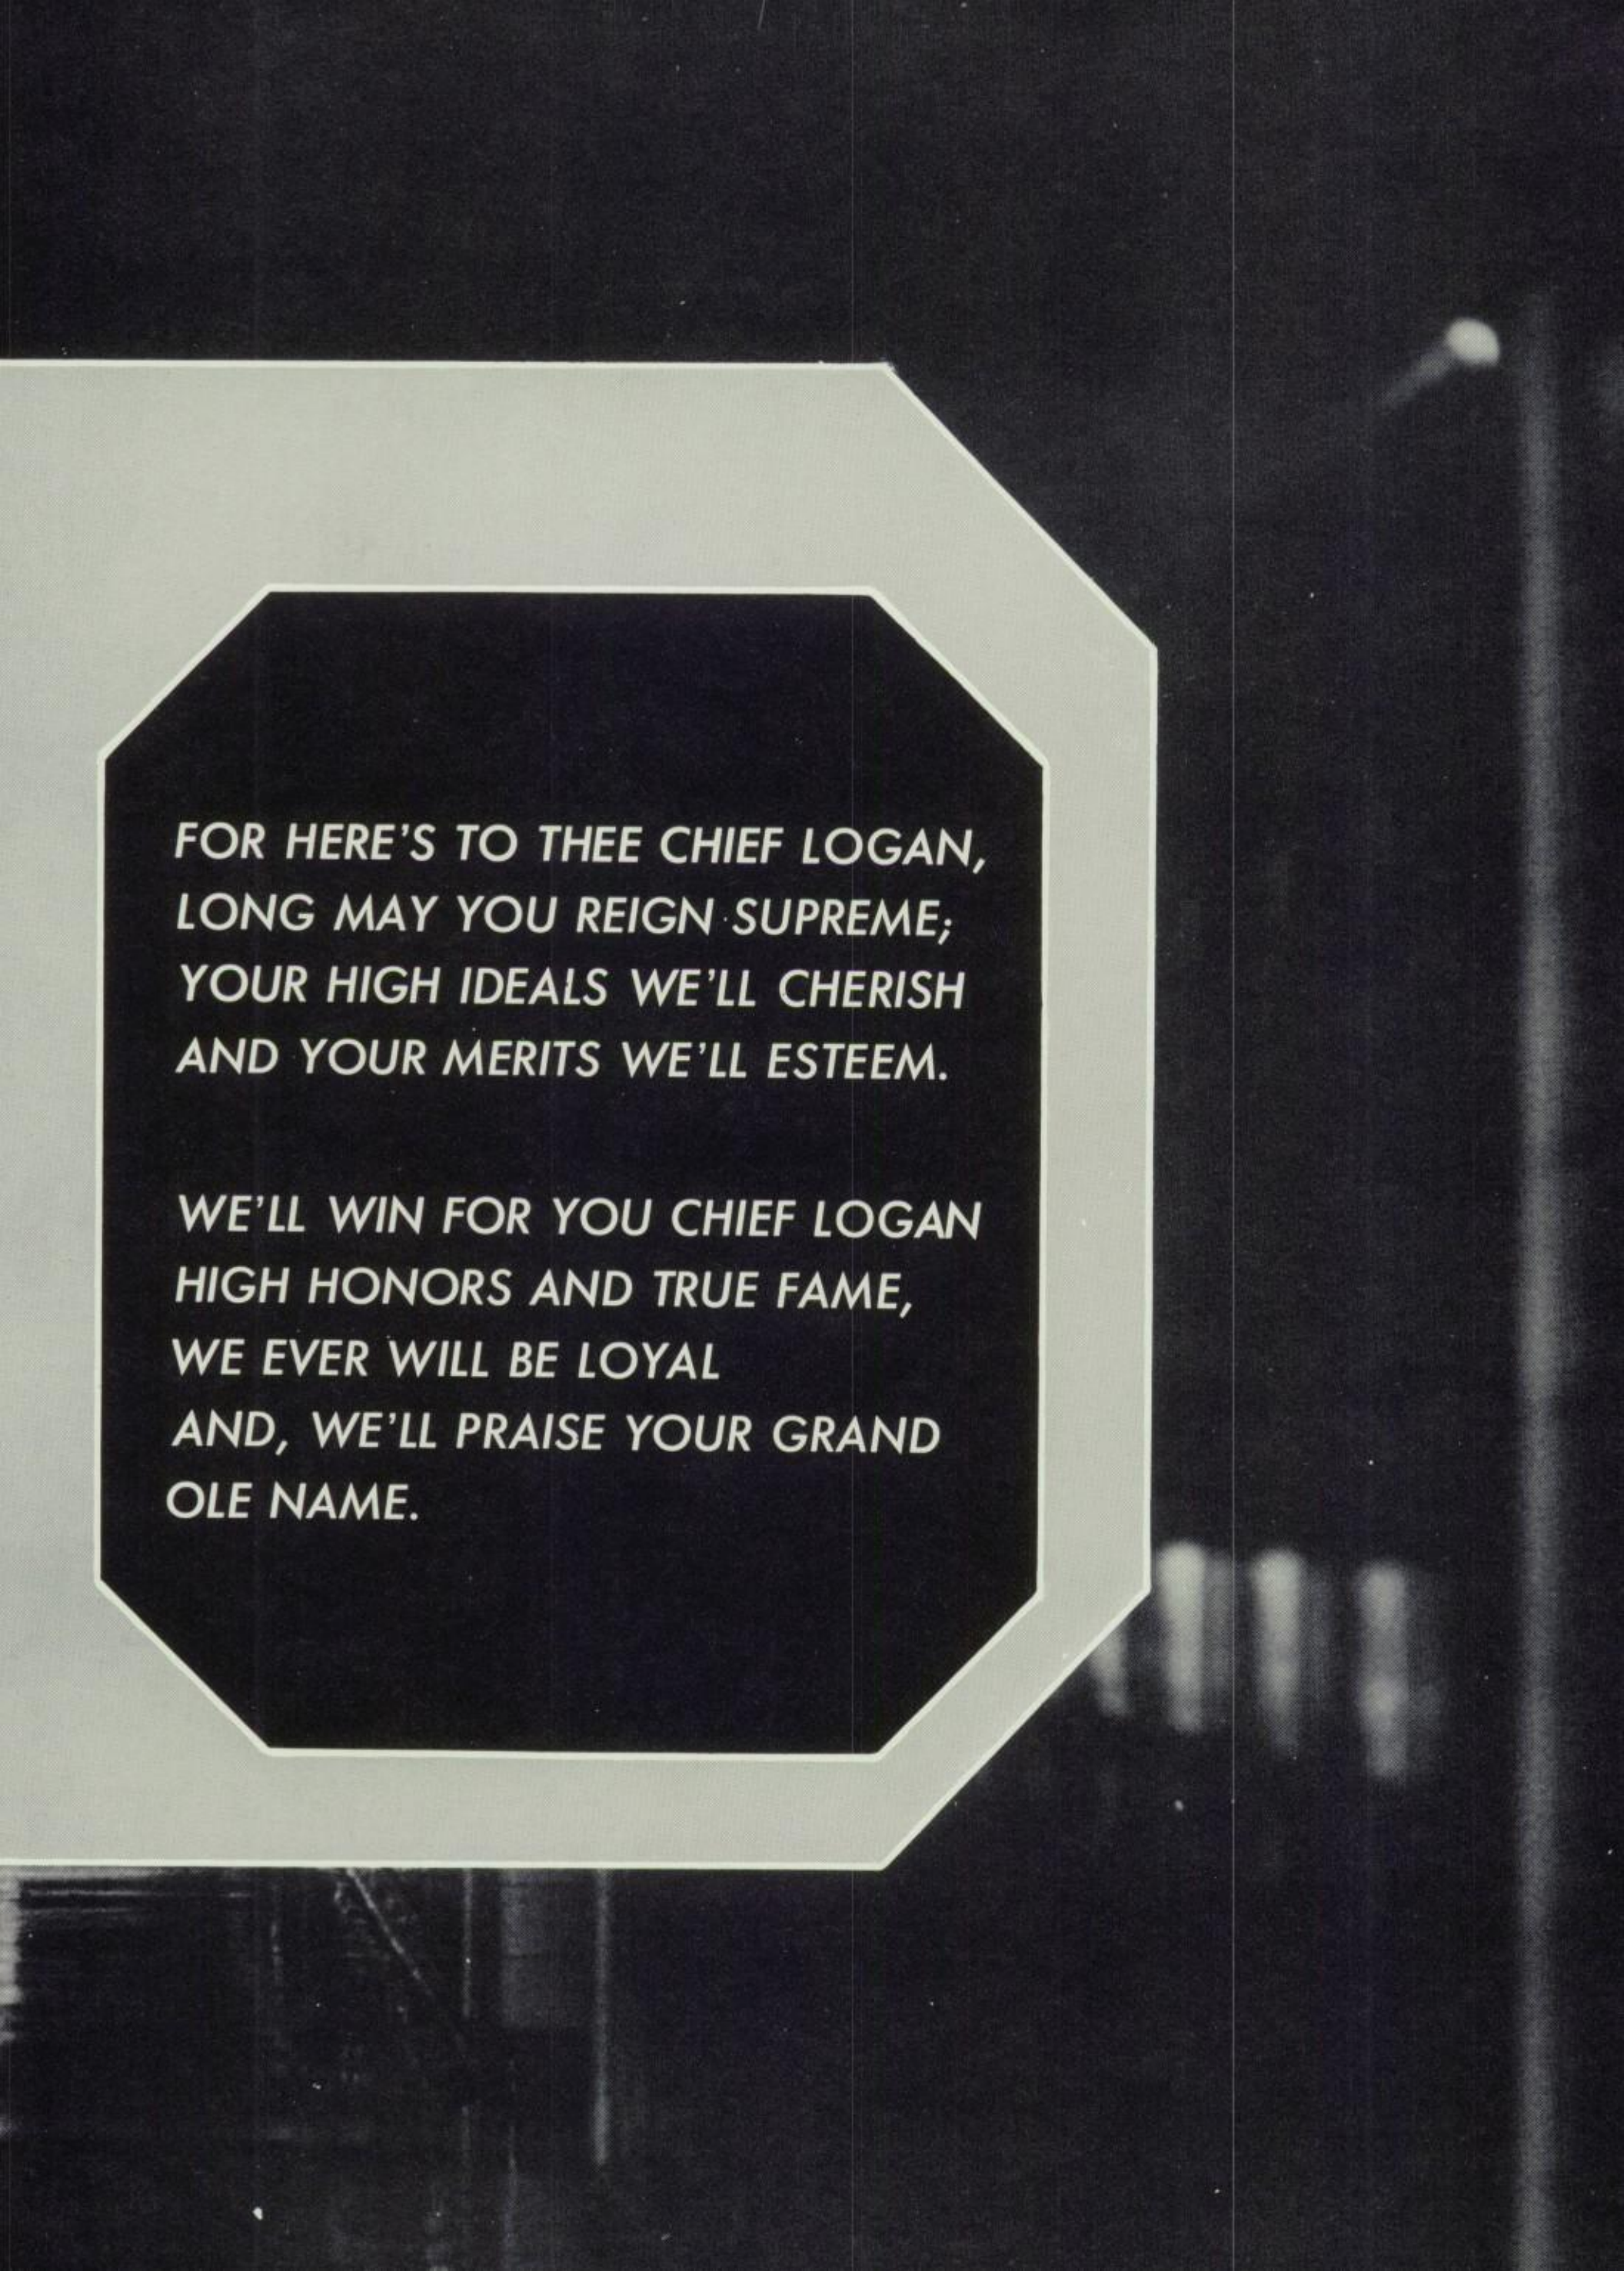
As we look down the hall for one last lingering moment, we are sad. We shall miss these halls which have prepared us for just this moment—when we take our place in the world. For most of us, our formal education is over. Only a memory, one which each of us will always cherish and contemplate, remains. We will never forget the pathways through the school which have bound and directed us toward success and happiness. At the threshold, we turn to look once again, and all we see are the shadows, the memories, of our journey.

"THROUGH THE HALLS"



FOR HERE'S TO THEE CHIEF LOGAN,
LONG MAY YOU REIGN SUPREME;
YOUR HIGH IDEALS WE'LL CHERISH
AND YOUR MERITS WE'LL ESTEEM.
WE'LL WIN FOR YOU CHIEF LOGAN
HIGH HONORS AND TRUE FAME,
WE EVER WILL BE LOYAL AND, WE'LL PRAISE YOUR GRAND OLE NAME.
